Reference for Andrew Waugh – Consultant

Glasgow City Council have experience of working with Andrew Waugh as a member of a team working on the development and implementation of Glasgow City Council's Housing Options Guide and in developing a framework of reports based on the quarterly national statistical return to the Scottish Government on Homelessness (HL1 Return).

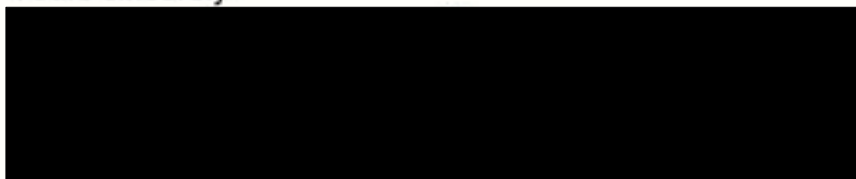

Andrew continued to work on the Homelessness quarterly and annual reports as a freelance consultant.

Our experience of working with Andrew over both roles has been very positive. Andrew is very hard working, accommodating and flexible in his approach to work. He meets deadlines and responded to comments on his work timeously. Andrew has been able to modify reports as requirements change and they remain very readable reports for a range of audiences. Andrew demonstrates a thorough understanding of the homelessness agenda.

Andrew displays an awareness of the political and business agendas of the public and voluntary sectors which is very relevant to his work.
